English IV

Basic Information

This is the final course in the required four years of English at Carterville High School. My e-mail address is djohnson@cartervillelions.com. My classroom is located in the “new wing” in room 109. It is wonderful having air conditioning, a window, and back into a full sized classroom!

Class Information

I expect each student to come prepared for class daily. Please expect to ALWAYS need to have pen/pencil and paper. The textbooks we use for Senior English are English for the World of Work and American Literature. The textbooks are quite expensive; please do not lose them! We also have spelling on pretty much a weekly basis, which is designed to build spelling and writing skills. We will read at least one novel during Senior year: choosing from: Remember Me, The Final Decision, Flight #116 is Down or The 5 People You Will Meet in Heaven. and other novels as time permits. (Perhaps we can get through many of the novels, but usually that doesn't happen.) The last feature we work on quite often is our writing ability. Practical writing such as resumes and letters of application are taught. Essays and creative writing are a part of our high school curriculum. Senior year we do one major research paper. As far as assignments go, the work is geared for each students' particular needs, strengths and weaknesses. The lessons are aligned with what is expected through the Illinois Learning Standards.

Course Description

The purpose of English IV is to have students ready to face their adult challenges in the areas of reading, spelling and writing. English for the World of Work develops communication skills that are essential for deciding upon a career, obtaining a job, and being prepared for promotions. Activities are patterned after situations in the real work world and are designed to develop better reading, writing, speaking and listening skills. In the text American Literature, we study exclusively our literary heritage. Selections are presented in chronological order to provide historical overviews. Vocabulary development and reading comprehension are emphasized. In the novel(s) we read, the emphasis is on an understanding of problems that may be seen as adults, and how the decisions one makes has an impact on others. Discussion is a main factor with the novels.

Course Policies

If a student is given an assignment, expect that it will be graded. Most all activity is handled in the classroom, so rarely will outside homework be given. Each assignment is graded by the amount of points it was worth. (Twenty questions = twenty points) Points are deducted for missed or incomplete answers, or not following the directions. After the first month, five points are deducted if their name is not on their paper. Tests are graded by the percentage of 100...with a perfect test being given at 100%. There are two weekly spelling grades with the final test on the last day of the week. Usually the work graded is all written, until we have assignments in reading that may have a class participation grade. In the class participation grade, they will be given full points if they have been an active participant in the listening and discussion. Points are deducted for inappropriate behavior during this assignment. The grading scale is what Carterville High School uses, unless an adjusted grading scale is a part of the their educational accommodations.

Academic Success

In order for each student to be successful, they need to use their time in class to build their English knowledge base. They need to come to class prepared to learn, and expect to be taught. If they miss class, they are expected to see me the day they return to see what they've missed. I allow extra days to make up their work on an individual basis, but they will be told when I expect them to have their work in. If they do not make up their work by the assigned date, points will be deducted. Students tend to feel overwhelmed if they miss very much, so it is imperative they are here daily in order to show their best effort. If they are tardy for my class I deal with this on an individual basis. If they can physically get here on time I expect them to do so! As far as their academic work is concerned, I expect each student to try their best and do their own work. Cheating is not tolerated, and a 0 will be given.

Note to Parents

Students are in my classroom for a variety of reasons, and much of what they are expected to accomplish will be on an individual basis. Therefore when parents look at STI home, I want them to realize all assignments are posted, but not all assignments will be for their child. It may say "English IV" as the class, but students within that class may not all have the same assignment. I appreciate the chance to work with your child. You have given me an opportunity I am grateful for, and value.
